

	TEF	TCF-DAP	DELFF -DALF
What does it stand for?	Test d'Evaluation du Français.	Test de Connaissance du Français pour la Demande d'Admission Préalable.	Diplôme d'Etudes en Langue Française – Diplôme Approfondi de Langue Française
What is it? A test or an exam?	A test. You will be told what your level is according to your answers.	A test. You will be told what your level is according to your answers.	An exam. You pick which level you want to register for and take the exam at this level.
Who is it for?	Anybody who would like their French skills to be recognized for personal, professional or immigration purposes.	Students and future students.	Anybody who would like their French skills to be recognized for personal or professional purposes.
Why should I take this certification?	Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) recognizes the TEF as conclusive proof of your language skills. Citizenship, Residence, and Immigration France. Citizenship and Immigration Quebec.	If you want to register in France for the premier cycle of first stage undergraduate studies (green or white form) or for a school of architecture (yellow form).	Amongst other reasons: -To validate what I have learnt so far. -To broaden my resume. - To study or to work in a French speaking country/province. -To value my abilities.
How many modules are there?	3 compulsory modules: Reading, listening, vocabulary and sentence structures. 2 optional modules: Writing and speaking.	4 compulsory modules: listening, language structures, reading and writing.	4 at each level: listening, reading, writing and speaking.
What are the levels?	The 6 CECRL* levels: A1: Breakthrough A2: Waystage B1: Threshold B2: Vantage C1: Effective Operational Proficiency C2: Mastery	The 6 CECRL* levels: A1: Breakthrough A2: Waystage B1: Threshold B2: Vantage C1: Effective Operational Proficiency C2: Mastery	The 6 CECRL* levels: A1: Breakthrough A2: Waystage B1: Threshold B2: Vantage C1: Effective Operational Proficiency C2: Mastery

How do I read y results?	Your result shows your level in each skill. For instance, you could be at an A2 level in writing and a B1 level in reading.	Your result shows your level in each skill. For instance, you could be at an A2 level in writing and a B1 level in reading.	You will get marked at your target level for all 4 skills.
What are the conditions to succeed?	It is impossible to fail the TEF. The test results vary for every individual and your certification will show what your level in French is.	A B2 level is generally required to enter an undergraduate program. Please, contact your university.	You need a minimum mark of 5/25 per module, and a total mark of 50/100 to succeed.
Who organizes the test/exam?	The Paris Chamber of Commerce and Industry (CCIP).	The FEI : France Education International in France.	The FEI : France Education International in France.
What do I get after the exam/test?	A detailed certificate giving the total score obtained as well as personalized comments for each section.	A certificate of results that grades you at one of six levels.	An official diploma from the French Ministry of Education.
How long is the certificate valid for?	2 years.	For the academic year.	DELF -DALF are life-long diplomas.
Need more information?	LINK	LINK	LINK
What can I do to get ready?	LINK	LINK	LINK